Speaker Biography

Jenny Reeve BVSc DipECVIM-CA MRCVS

Jenny is a Senior Lecturer in Small Animal Medicine at the University of Bristol Veterinary School. She graduated from Bristol in 2008 and spent 3 years in a busy first opinion small animal practice before returning to academia to undertake initially a rotating internship, then a residency, in small animal internal medicine. She became a European and RCVS Specialist in Small Animal Internal Medicine in 2016, and after a few years in private clinical referral practice, returned to the University of Bristol in 2018, where she enjoys the combination of both clinical work within the Langford Vets Small Animal Referral Hospital, and teaching; sharing her enthusiasm for medicine with both under and postgraduate veterinary students.
